Man of action

Candidate for FIG Vice President

I've been an active member of the Association of Polish Surveyors (SGP) for many years and have served as vice president of the Association. With my commitment and energy, I can reliably and effectively carry out the tasks set before me.

In the opinion of the organizers and participants of the FIG 2022 I made a good impression during the Congress organized in Poland. It was said that I was a very communicative person, an excellent organizer, a man of action, and always ready for various challenges. In the geodetic environment, I work international, I am known as a high-class specialist open to new solutions and technologies and with an interdisciplinary and comprehensive approach to solving engineering tasks. My culture, optimism, energy, ability to work in a team and effectiveness are the features that make me an excellent manager.

I have extensive experience and undoubtedly skills in promotional activities and establishing cooperation with business partners. I'm very involved in promoting the Association and federation and have recently supported FIG's efforts to obtain sponsors and exhibitors. My personal qualities and actions make people see me as a leader, capable of building a team around me that can carry out demanding tasks, and a perfect candidate for the vice president of FIG.

Your World, Our World: Resilient Environment and Sustainable Resource Management for All

Inspired by the FIG Congress in Poland 2022 and motivated by the current President Diane Dumashie, I want to motivate everyone to act and successfully achieve their professional and private goals. My conversation with Diane stuck in my mind. We talked about intergenerational professional exchange, about continuing family traditions, about spreading knowledge. Yes, I come from a surveying family and I grew up in it, and now I work for surveyors and provide them with measurement solutions.

The second part of this speech took place during the summary of the FIG Congress in Poland. It was a very fruitful and successful meeting. And for me, a novice and organizer – an extraordinary distinction and SUCCESS. And this mix of experiences tempted me to this speech. Well, I have been implementing measurement technologies for surveyors for over 26 years. In addition, the congress experience made me realize that I submit development plans to my clients. We plan development. We plan budget years, we plan investments, and based on this example and my experience, I have a recipe for success, which, as you can see, I duplicated at the congress. Not alone, of course not alone, but in a team and that makes me a proud successful surveyor.

Treat People With Kindness!

This is the motto of this action.
